

Client Service Representative

Are you passionate about animal agriculture and ready to make a real impact? We're looking for a Client Service Representative who thrives in a fast-paced environment and is committed to delivering exceptional service to our clients.

- About the Role

- As a Client Service Representative, you'll be at the heart of our business—listening to our clients' needs and providing solutions that help them succeed. Our clients rely on us for the highest quality reproduction services, and they deserve a responsive team dedicated to helping them achieve their reproductive, animal health, and nutrition goals.

- What You'll Do

- Serve as a trusted advocate for our clients, understanding their unique needs and delivering tailored solutions
- Champion and implement RSG's goals, focus, and vision in everything you do
- Work collaboratively with our team to ensure seamless service delivery
- Maintain the highest standards of confidentiality for our company, teammates, and clients

- What We're Looking For

- A genuine passion for animal agriculture
- Strong communication and listening skills
- Ability to excel in a dynamic, fast-paced environment
- Commitment to excellence and client satisfaction

If you're ready to join a team that values expertise, responsiveness, and integrity, we'd love to hear from you.
